No hurry or worry here

Fishermen couldn't ask for more

THERE'S A NEW LIFE FOR YOU HERE IN FLORIDA...NOW

Now, as easily as you'd buy a new refrigerator, you can acquire a Port Charlotte homesite that may be the most rewarding investment you've ever made in your life.

Delightful for a year 'round or vacation home...or a place to retire and develop new interests...a Southwest coast community planned to bring you Florida living at its best.

Sandy, sun-swept beaches invite you to relax

While you've been looking at these pictures . . . others are enjoying this wonderful life!

The people you see photographed here are not professional models. They are families who have bought Port Charlotte property and are living here in Florida right now.

They found out that Port Charlotte, owned by the General Development Corporation, is considered one of the choicest large tracts available in Florida today. They learned, too, that General Development Corporation had selected the Mackle Company to develop this land into a planned community.

The Mackle Brothers, famous as Florida's leading builders and developers, have a record of accomplishments which has won nation-wide attention from experts in the field. The advantages that the Mackles put into a community for better living also make it a wise investment (see chart at right).

The unusual terms of the offer enabling you to acquire your homesite are given in the coupon below.

YOU MAY BUY PROPERTY AT PORT CHARLOTTE

—as a wise and happy approach toward retirement, enjoying your homesite as a family vacation base while still active in business.

—as an investment, securing it at today's favorable price and holding your land for the rise in value that so many Mackle-developed areas have enjoyed.

—to make available to employees on their retirement, as a mark of appreciation for loyal services.

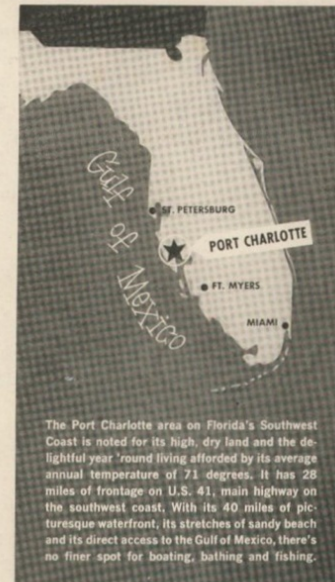

THE MACKLE PLAN

1. Makes it easy to finance ownership of property which in the estimation of Florida's most experienced developers, offers the best promise for increase in values.

2. Gives you the benefit of lower prices made possible through the largest-scale operation in the field so you make more if you re-sell when property values rise.

3. Makes certain your property conforms to Federal, State and local regulations—and that's important in avoiding delays, disappointments and extra expense.

4. Is the best assurance of the soundness of your investment because your land is in a planned community of homes, shopping centers, parks, churches, schools.

The Port Charlotte area on Florida's Southwest Coast is noted for its high, dry land and the delightful year 'round living afforded by its average annual temperature of 71 degrees. It has 28 miles of frontage on U.S. 41, main highway on the southwest coast. With its 40 miles of picturesque waterfront, its stretches of sandy beach and its direct access to the Gulf of Mexico, there's no finer spot for boating, bathing and fishing.
